

TIM J. ROBILLARD, B.A., LL.M (ADR)

partner

Tim has extensive experience in the field of conflict management across Canada coaching, facilitating, mediating and training. He works with complex multi-party disputes in energy as well as government sectors. Tim works with parties to manage their Appropriate Dispute Resolution initiatives in parallel with regulatory applications and hearing processes. He assists organizations to build “Get Ahead of Conflict” strategies early in the stakeholder consultation process and works with them to stay ahead of conflict.

Having managed over 175 ADR Processes within the Energy Resources Conservation Board (ERCB) ADR program, Tim was a support member of the design team for the ERCB ADR program and was team design facilitator for the ERCB on the Tailing Ponds Draft Directive consultation process. He has successfully executed conflict management training work with organizations such as the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the First-Nation Stoney Tribal Council, the Law Society of Yukon, the Continuing Legal Education Society of British Columbia, the Canadian Institute of Applied Negotiation, the University of British Columbia, Alberta Justice and numerous energy companies.

Highly experienced in the field of facilitation, Tim has conducted successful facilitations on complex multi-party disputes for provincial and municipal governments. He has designed and managed dozens of energy industry Participant Involvement, consultation programs and processes for small to large companies on various types of energy resource development projects. Tim has facilitated ADR training for the Federal Ministry of Justice in both Ottawa and Alberta, the Southern Alberta Association of Insurance Adjusters, ERCB (formally Alberta Energy & Utilities Board), Certified Management Accountants of Alberta and the Mount Royal College multi-party mediation course.

Actively involved in a range of organizations across Alberta, Tim was a member of the Alberta Arbitration and Mediation Society, committee chair for the Company-To-Company Dispute Resolution Task Force, Vice President of the Calgary Junior Chamber of Commerce and Director of Promotions for the Community Mediation Calgary Society.

Tim graduated from the Department of Public Affairs and Management with a Bachelor of Arts from the Carleton University of Ottawa in 1998. He received his Master of Laws in 2009 from Osgoode Hall Law School in Toronto.
